

© Sean Chinn

GALAPAGOS SHARK

The Galapagos Shark is a large species of requiem shark known for its robust build, dark grey coloration, and prominent dorsal fin.

SCIENTIFIC NAME: Carcharhinus galapagensis

DIET: Crustaceans, molluscs, bottom fish

DISTRIBUTION: Worldwide, patchy, mainly around warm-temperate to tropical oceanic islands.

MAXIMUM SIZE: 3 m

HABITAT: Coastal, pelagic, shallow inshore to far offshore.

DISTRIBUTION MAP:

CONSERVATION STATUS:

Least Concern